OUTSIDE

The overall curtilage of Fildraw Mansion House is approximately 7 acres with approximately 2,000 sq.ft of ancillary buildings situated at Ballavoddan Barn, a two story former Barn with roadside frontage and a private gated entrance, located to the western boundary of the property and providing essential accommodation and storage to serve the property and its extensive grounds.

Fildraw Mansion house is approached through pillared entrance gates with a sweeping block-paved driveway and turning circle around a feature water fountain with parking for at least six vehicles to the front of the house and garage.

The driveway is bordered by manicured lawns over lit by traditional lantern style lighting. There are shaped borders, rockeries and various beds, all thoughtfully planted with a variety of species of trees, perennials and shrubs. One of the Island's oldest and most complete row of elm trees runs across the grounds.

An oriental theme runs through the grounds; a private BBQ area, framed by an oak pergola adorned by mature wisteria and clematis is complimented by a large private terrace to the rear of the house, accessible from multiple rooms to include the breakfast kitchen, family room and swimming pool. Take a meandering walk alongside the Silverburn river or simply enjoy finding your way out of the unique and interesting maze. Experience the 'moon gate' or sit quietly, taking it all in across the bridge over the lake.
